

STICK AROUND FOR HOSPITALITY SUNDAY on September 11

...eating together has been a tradition of the church since its early days.

When we read about the early church in Acts, sharing meals in homes was a regular part of their practice. To this day, eating together remains an important part of our church. It is something the church has done for thousands of years — so there must be something to it. Granted we are not having a full-blown meal, but dessert is always important. Stick around for a donut and maybe meet 1 or 2 of God’s favorite people at St. James.
