

Intercessions
Third Sunday of Lent—March 12, 2023

Cantor: Oyenos, mi Dios....

- For the whole church, as we continue to ask the age-old question: “Is God in our midst or not?” while we seek to be signs of God’s presence for others. We pray,
- For all who need signs of God’s presence and love; for those who are marginalized in any way—who feel unseen, unheard, or dishonored. We pray,
- For the growing number of places in the world where water is scarce, polluted or has become a commodity; for those places with too much water, where flooding disrupts live; and for the ability to address these critical issues. We pray,
- For the continuing injustice of misogyny throughout the world; for those who practice and promote the mistreatment of women; and for those working to eliminate it. We pray,
- For the courage and leadership to address the growing, unsettling issues of white supremacy, anti-Semitism, political misinformation and others confronting America. We pray,
- For those among us who are in pain or distress; for those suffering from any kind of instability; and for those whose unmet needs we hope to address through our individual and parish ministries. We pray,
- We pray now for our own concerns; and for all whose lives are fragile (pause). For all these things, we pray,
