Solemnity of the Most Holy Trinity—June 4, 2023

Cantor: Hear our prayer, hear our prayer...

- For the church: that—despite our sinfulness-- we may be a healing community and viable sign of compassion, love, justice and peace. We pray,
- For those who feel alone—who have never experienced or have been wounded by community; for broken communities; and for those who work to build strong, healing communities. We pray,
- For lasting solutions to long-ignored and newly emerging social issues, and for the leadership needed to heal America and its deep divisions. We pray,
- For all families; for divided and broken families; and for children and adults who have no families. We pray,
- For the wisdom, commitment and courage to discern our individual responsibilities to family, neighbor, fellow citizens, country and world. We pray,
- For those in this community who are suffering or in any kind of need; for those whose suffering we fail to see; and for those we strive to serve as individuals or as a community. We pray,
- We pray now for our own needs, and for the awareness that we are never really alone (pause). For all these things, we pray,
